

I RISE TO REMARK

BY JOHN PHILLIPS

Who commits whom, and a few comments:

I've been getting letters lately, from people who seem to think that the United States has somehow failed to keep a promise to loan $65,000,000 to the United Nations, to build in New York. "We committed ourselves," they say to me. Who committed whom? I have no doubt we will eventually loan the money, although I still think, we might better use the big empty plant at Geneva, in Switzerland, a neutral country. My memory, after 11 years, can still picture the buildings and the meeting rooms, decorated at great cost by the constituent nations, some times with irreplaceable national treasures. Maybe we'd better keep close to the trouble spots, anyway.

That's debatable. But not the "commitment" idea. That's important in our scheme of government. This is what happened: The UN acquired land in New York City, through the Rockefeller. Who was asked to put up the money to build Good old Uncle Sam, of course. He has the biggest per capita debt in the world now; what's a little more added to it? So ex-Senator Austin, now U. S. representative to the UN, told UN people we would put up the money.

It's a well established custom constitutionally, that the Congress has to approve the spending of the taxpayers' money, and moreover, that all appropriation bills must originate in the House of Representatives. Before money may be appropriated, a legislative authorization must come from the proper legislative committee. Without such authorization, a point of order could lie against the item, unless the rules committee was willing to allow its inclusion.

So the Senate put the AUTHORIZATION for $65,000,000 in a bill, and passed it. It went to the Committee on Foreign Affairs in the House and was debated there. Towards the end of the session, that committee brought out an "omnibus bill" containing numerous authorizations, one of which was the UN loan item. It did not come up for action on the floor. It is quite possible that it will come up when the Congress reconvenes on December 31, or if we have a special session. But, as of this moment, the Congress has never authorized the loan, and consequently the matter has never been before the Committee on Appropriations.

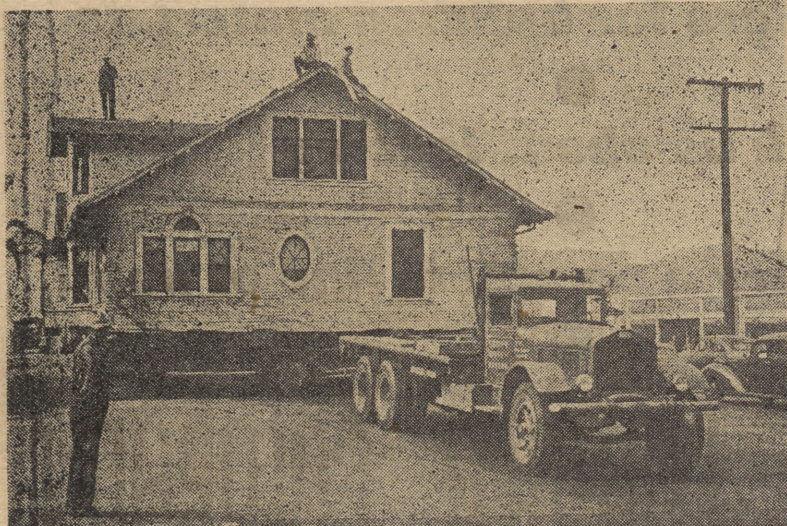

This lack of understanding of the procedures of the Congress, all of which are there for the protection of the people, goes further than the UN loan. It was evident during the discussions over the ECA appropriation. I will write about that next week.

PARTY GIVEN FOR ENLARGING SPECIAL FUND

The Los Alamitos American Legion auxiliary sponsored a social affair last Friday evening in the new kindergarten building at Laurel elementary school. Mrs. M. W. Robinson, president, stated the money gained would benefit the group's community service program.

Fire Friday At De Polter Residence

A fire, which threatened the ranch type home occupied by the John D. Polter's at 5641 Lincoln avenue, completely destroyed a chicken house, which has not been in use recently. De Polter states that since there was no insurance on the building, it is not contemplated replacing it at this time. Rather, effort will be made to enlarge and beautify the yard after the debris has been cleared away. The prompt arrival of the local volunteer fire department is credited with keeping the fire under control and not endangering the other buildings on the property.

Moved to a location just east of Moody on La Palma by the Stanton House Movers, of Buena Park, for J. B. Barcellis recently was this ten-room house, which had been a landmark for years in Fullerton. A minimum of time was required and there were no mishaps along the heavily traveled route, which shows that whether it's across the street or across the county, Stanton House Movers does the job. Cypress Reptile Expert Succumbs to Cobra Bite

Grace Olive Wiley, 66, owner of the Grace Wiley Reptile zoo and internationally known as the only person to tame and handle the king cobra, died Tuesday afternoon in the manner which she often said she preferred "to any other way," being bitten by an Indian Cobra. She was assisting Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Mannix of Malibu in taking pictures of her collection to accompany an article being written about her for True magazine. The snake, which brought her career to an end, was one of three recently received in a shipment of 20 tropical reptiles.

"He is getting nervous, I think I had better put him back in the cage," she remarked, and when she stretched forth her hand, the cobra struck, burying its fangs in the knuckle of the middle finger of her right hand. Remaining perfectly calm, Mrs. Wiley, with great difficulty, removed the fangs and returned the snake to its cage.

Tourniquets were applied to her elbow and wrist, but when her cousin, Clarence Tanner, who had been summoned from Buena Park, suggested that amputation might save her life, she only shook her head and said, "Too late." Placed in an ambulance she was quickly taken to Long Beach Community hospital and placed in an iron lung. Various serums were administered and although she revived several times, the heart which had been weakened by rheumatic fever could not stand the strain.

Through the whole ordeal, Mrs. Wiley remained perfectly calm and gave no indication of intense suffering. The last thing she did before entering the ambulance was to request Mrs. Tanner to take care of her aged mother who made her home with her daughter.

Relatives stated that they have been expecting such a thing to happen sooner or later, especially since the new shipment arrived. She refused to have poison glands of her reptiles removed claiming that snakes only struck through fear. It is believed that the flash bulbs used in taking the pictures, excited the cobra, causing it to strike. Mrs. Wiley's technique in taming the many snakes in her collection which includes the deadly fer-de-lance which she raised from a tiny baby feeding it with a medicine dropper, diamond back rattlesnake, side winders, copperheads, the coral snake and kraits, as well as the non poisonous pythons and boas, consisted of stroking their backs with a padded stick. Within two weeks she claimed she could stroke them with her bare hands.

The tamest snakes in her collection were a pair of king cobras, "King" and "Queen" which appeared in several motion pictures including "Trade Winds" co-starring Joan Bennett and Fredric March.

Only recently, Mrs. Wiley was invited to appear on the radio program, "It's a Living" which relates unusual and odd ways in which people make a living. She took one of her "tame" snakes with her and was looking forward to a television broadcast.

Mrs. Wiley became interested in reptiles while taking a class in entomology when she attended the University of Kansas. She became so interested she specialized in herpetology and after graduation she became curator in the Museum of natural history in Minneapolis for 13 years. She spent several years in Long Beach before she came to Cypress and built her modest little reptile zoo two years ago. The zoo has been visited by countless groups of children and students from all over Southern California and Mrs. Wiley has often spoken at school assemblies, including the Anaheim High school, and displayed some of her specimens.

Several offers had been received by Mrs. Wiley for her collection so her zoo will probably pass into other hands.

She is survived by her 87 year old mother, Mrs. Mary Gough, a sister, Mrs. Elsie Bendowski of Long Beach and a cousin, Clarence Tanner of Cypress.

MORE SCHOOL FUNDS SOUGHT FOR LAUREL

Another school bond issue, of approximately $35,000, is expected to be asked of voters soon, according to Mrs. Lea Randolph, who in charge of the school office this summer and who was authorized by the board of trustees as its agent in seeking state aid.

Mrs. Randolph pointed out that due to the increase in assessed valuation of the district, it will be necessary to vote the additional bonds in order to maintain the district's "improvement" status, which entitles it to state aid.

Proceeds of the issue would be used in equipping new classrooms, for which state funds cannot be used; buying a site for a future junior high school and converting the present kindergarten building into a cafeteria.

Osborne Sent To Institution

At a hearing in Justice Court in Santa Ana Tuesday morning, William C. Osborne, admitted murderer of his grandmother, was committed to the state institution for the insane at Mendocino. Osborne, who stabbed Mrs. Winnifred DeLong in the neck as she lay on a couch in her home reading her Bible, admitted he had committed the crime because he was "mad at grandma."

At the hearing he expressed a willingness to be sent to the institution, it was reported, and the agreement was reached without recourse to jury trial procedure.

A coroner's jury meeting at the Renaker Chapel in Buena Park established the fact and method of Mrs. DeLong's death last Thursday afternoon.

Graveside services for Mrs. DeLong were held Monday afternoon in Olive Lawn Memorial Park with Reverend Bell of the Four Square church of La Habra officiating.

World's Largest Auction Opens Sunday On 101

With a "Hollywoodlike" flourish, the world's largest auction sale begins Sunday, July 25, at the new Auction City near Downey, California.

The setting, the disposal of goods, and the merchandise itself, suggest a Hollywood epic in keeping with Southern California's flair for mammoth productions. Twelve separate and complete auction sales are scheduled to be in progress simultaneously on the grounds. Fun attractions for the youngsters will add another unique first.

Covering 14 acres along Firestone Boulevard, 1 1/2 miles west of Norwalk, Auction City promises to become a show place of the Southland. Management of the project states that it fills a long-felt need for a giant clearing house — both for the purchase of and sale of merchandise.

Admission and parking will be free, with parking space available for five thousand cars.

With the opening rap of the auctioneer's gavel Sunday at 10 a.m., approximately $150,000 in goods and merchandise will go on the auction block. For the young folks, Auction City has arranged a host of fun features — a miniature roller coaster, merry-go-round, speed boats, ferris wheels and other kiddie attractions. Lunch and refreshments stands have been erected on the premises.

Following the opening event, plans call for auction sales to be continued Sunday, Wednesday and Friday of each week.

WHITE GOLD DAY VOLUNTEERS INVITED TO MEETING THURSDAY

The best float in the big parade to be staged at ten o'clock on the morning of White Gold Days to best represent the dairy theme will be awarded a grand prize, according to the chairman of the event, James Bryant. Invitations have been issued to organizations, educational groups, business firms, bands and mounted units in Cypress and the surrounding area to participate in what is hoped to be a parade to top all parades. In addition to those invited to enter in the competition, many notables and well known civic leaders have also been asked to be present, being reminded that the carnival last year was a rousing success with a net profit of over $3000 in the bank and a reservoir of enthusiasm and anticipation for the event this year, with public interest spurring the committees to do justice to the faith the community has in the endeavor.

The second White Gold day festival is scheduled for Saturday, September 18, for the purpose of adding to the funds needed to build a recreation park for the youth of the community. Tickets are already on sale under the direction of the ticket sales chairman, Haskell A. Kelly, and a television set will be given away. In addition, chairman A. E. "Pat" Arnold states that it will soon be possible to purchase tickets to the very popular barbecue, and Earl Essex is negotiating for huge buttons to be worn by White Gold day enthusiasts, advertising the big event.

In the department of arrangements for the carnival the chairman, T. J. Boyd is anxious for volunteers to help the men who have consented to oversee the various activities. G. E. Rust will have full charge of matters pertaining to electricity and Price Siebert and Fred Mackay will advise in all matters of both construction. Anyone willing to help in either of these activities should contact Rust, Siebert or Mackay.

Jerry Kelley, contest chairman, has not made any statement to date as to the nature of his committee's plans for a special contest. Whether it will be for the prettiest gal, the best-natured bachelor, the most popular citizen, or what, is yet to be announced.

IT'S BEING SAID -- IN CYPRESS

That while the fire held our attention Friday morning, and with all due respect to brother Boyd's sacrifice to get us there for first-hand information, we found so much else interesting to claim our attention. Across the street, in the pasture, was one of the cutest and riskiest coits you can imagine. We knew our mother would have loved to be there to see it. Then we were amused at the forms of transportation used to get to the fire—besides the obvious, automobiles, they arrived doubly and triply on bikes and horses. One pair of children wore rubber boots in the firemen tradition. (Could have been keeping their feet dry these dewey mornings, too.) After admiring many Jacques lovely rose garden set in the center of a velvety soft green lawn, we came back to town. P.S. Kelley gave us the details of the fire later in the day.

That if our opinion is of any importance as a guide to good entertainment, you will want to see as some time, either this year or in the future, and especially if you are the parents of children whom you wish to be educated in the finer things of life, the beautiful Pageant of the Masters, with its living pictures, the outstanding work of painters and sculptors are presented in tableau form by Laguna Beach townspeople on stage at Irvine bowl. Gold frames and backgrounds, as well as costumes studied and copied from the masterpieces, complete the "living pictures" which are accurate to the most minute detail. We enjoyed about the best of all "The angels," probably because we could remember having studied about the picture and the artist in school. Most spectacular and difficult to believe your eyes, was seeing real men holding motionless as you gazed upon a perfect reproduction of the famous "Last supper," by Da Vinci. Don't let the fact that it is "art" scare you away. It is a new medium for presenting a worthwhile subject in an interesting way—a way in which everyone can enjoy it.

The general chairman, Richard V. Hathcock, has announced an open meeting of all persons in the community who would be willing to take part and work for White Gold day to meet at the school at eight p.m. on Thursday evening, July 29, at which time volunteers can be assigned.

Building on Dairy Farm Catches Fire

When a younger son of the Jacques family, at 5652 Orange avenue, came out of the house and into the yard to pick up the morning paper Tuesday, he discovered a fire which caused an estimated $50 damage before the Cypress volunteer fire department brought it under control.

The dairy is owned by Frank Godinho, who lives in the San Joaquin valley. The fire reportedly started from a defective flue on the sterilizer and ate into the walls of the milkhouse before it was put out by Jacques and the firemen.

SARTWELL DRILL WON BY HEMET VISITOR

People by the thousands took advantage of the exhibits at the world's largest mineral and gem show last week in Long Beach, and officials of the huge auditorium reveal that it was the largest convention to ever be staged there. A raffle was held during the three day meet at which time donations of beautiful stones, polished rocks and specimens and machinery were raffled. A man from Hemet, California, won the Gem drill donated by Cypress' own Earl Sartwell, manufacturer and inventor of the Sartwell gem drill.

PROTEST FROM V.F.W. TO STATE OFFICIALS

Cypress V.F.W. Post No. 9847 has asked the state to put in a stop sign at the corner of Lincoln and Walker streets in Cypress. This stop sign has been badly needed for some time and the post is joining with other civic-minded groups and individuals with the hope that its efforts will aid in bringing pressure to bear in a worthy community project.

MOVIES-Tonight!

A good feature comedy, plus two dead-end kids installments of the serial, plus assorted short subjects, plus a good time for the young and old alike in the Cypress school auditorium tonight. Prices reasonable and for a good cause—a recreation park.

Enlistments High In Orange County

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1948, the U. S. Air Force enlisted 433 Orange county men, according to an announcement by Major John S. Muir, Commanding Officer of the six recruiting stations in; this area, located at Santa Ana, Fullerton, Anaheim, Orange, Newport Beach and Whittier.

"There has been a decided increase in the number of enlistments since the passage of the draft law," said Major Muir, "many men of draft age preferring the advantages of volunteer enlistment such as choice of branch of service, and duty assignment."

"During the last week in June" he disclosed, "more men were enlisted than during the three previous weeks, and applications are being received at present in increasing number."

Kelley Sells Store Interests To Three Men Wednesday

On Wednesday, July 21, a deal was consummated whereby Haskell A. Kelley turned over the keys of the Cypress Hardware store to a new management composed of Frank P. Noe, his brother William Foster Noe, and James W. Moss. The trio bought the hardware business, furniture, fixtures, equipment, and stock including the warehouses on the property at the rear of the main building. They plan to consolidate this stock with that of the recently acquired All-In-All Store, Inc., which purchase was made last week.

Kelley sold the store two and one-half years to the day of taking it over from its former owner, since he started in the hardware business in Cypress on January 21, 1946. Mr. and Mrs. Kelley will enjoy a long rest and vacation before announcing future plans.

Holiday Stage Hits West Coast First With Play

Holiday Stage has announced that it will present the first West Coast stock production of "Life With Father," starting on Monday, July 26. Tickets for the popular comedy are being sold in advance for each night of the week's run. Co-starred in this modern classic of American family life in the 1880's are Mary Finney of Holiday Stage, and Donald Curtis who plays the title role of Father.

Curtis, featured screen actor who recently appeared in Columbia's "The Fuller Brush Man" and who is currently headlined in "The Spider," novel vaudeville and whodunit show this week at Holiday Stage, comes to Orange County with a varied background of stage experience. Curtis has handled stage roles from Pittsburgh to the West Coast, having played recently with Eve Arden in "The Road to Rome."

Teamed with him in "The Spider" are John Alvin, William Pullen and Beverly Campbell, popular Holiday Stage players. Appearing on the same bill are two headline vaudeville acts—the Richards-Martin Dancing Troupe, and Hofmann the Great, magician and sleight-of-hand performer.

The Reverend Arthur T. King, formerly of Laguna Beach, California will serve the Baptist congregation in Cypress as its new pastor. For the past few weeks services have been held in the new church edifice which has been under construction but is now completed enough so that it can be used. It is hoped to finish the building in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Citizen in the Cypress area are being appealed to by the Cypress Business Men's association to give their fullest support and cooperation in the matter of peddlers and solicitors of questionable character. In its breakfast meeting Tuesday morning, Frank Noe, president, pointed to the fact that the system to control uninvestigated salesman who call on local housewives is now set up and in operation. A committee of business men have provided a "card of approval" to be issued to any salesman whose credentials are found to be satisfactory. Legitimate business and professional people remain in the community to guarantee satisfaction, and the householder has every right to ask to see the itinerant peddler's credentials first! It is rumored that several housewives have paid money recently to a solicitor without questioning his reliability, and to date, no merchandise has been forthcoming for value received. The business men state that this announcement is made as a public service for the protection of the people here.

Taken under advisement at the meeting, also, were the mechanics to be considered in perfecting the system introduced at a previous meeting to establish a credit rating bureau. The merchants are cooperating 100 per cent, on this project, since they feel that the idea will protect not only themselves, but residents also who are new to the community, or who need a reference in case of financial transactions.

The business men were asked by the secretary to express an opinion on whether or not it is wished to see the hog ranch continued in operation west of town. The district attorney's office consented to the farm's being maintained with the understanding that the stock would be moved out in eighteen months. A representative from the county veterinarian's office suggests that protests be made to the district attorney's office if neighbors and residents do not favor the hog ranch being operated in the future. At the present time, although the eighteen months' period is expiring, the ranch appears to be growing and enlarging. Protests may be written individually, or through organizations. The business men's group went on record officially as being in favor of having the hog farm disposed of permanently.

The club has been furnishing balls to a soft ball team this summer. However, since the group does not favor giving private advertising to any one business concern, its support is being withdrawn. If at any time an unsponsored team is organized, the members went on record as being in favor of helping similarly, as long as the team does not carry tag name of any one firm or concern.

STANTON LIONS CLUB HEARS REALTOR

The board of directors of the Stanton Lions' club met on Wednesday evening a week ago in the home of the new director, Edward G. Faulkner, to plan the Club's course for the year. The main object of the meeting was to discuss ways and means of raising funds to build a community center clubhouse on the two lots recently acquired on Chestnut street. On Monday evening, the members were privileged to hear Russ P. Gren, well known in North Long Beach as a civic leader and prominent realtor, who addressed the group. Joseph Manning, third vice-president, was program chairman for the evening.

Reverend and Mrs. Eric Jordan and daughter, Marcia, are spending three weeks visiting friends in Idaho. Lloyd Sirey, Sr., Sunday School superintendent, will conduct Sunday services.

PARDON US FOR BRAGGING

May we be forgiven for some good old-fashioned California boasting?

In agriculture, industry and population, State Chamber of Commerce president Harry A. Mitchell disclosed last week, California's economic upsurge has been breathtaking.

The record shows:

Population has soared 43 per cent since 1940, an increase of 2,969,000.

Since the end of the war, an influx of new home-seekers has offset departing war workers by 450,000. The state has added 300,000 additional citizens. And 750,000 demobilized veterans have settled in California.

Agriculture, too, is recording bumper years, the Chamber head pointed out. Cash farm income is above two billion dollars.

Individual incomes have exceeded the $16 billion dollar mark—an increase of 188.5 per cent over 1940. With the national average at $1350, California's per capita annual income averages $1642.

National recognition of California's growing industrial importance is demonstrated by 5278 new and projected factories and major plant expansions, representing a private capital investment of $453,982,000.

Excuse us, please, while we throw out our chest!

PAYING FOR FIRE

Fire insurance companies, which have been operating in the red since 1943, have been granted rate increases on certain types of risks in 15 states. The principal properties affected are small manufacturing plants with inadequate fire protection. In two of the states, homes will also pay a higher rate.

This is one more inevitable result of our scandalous fire waste. Ever-increasing fire underwriting losses have made it impossible for the companies to make both ends meet. Last year, the industry suffered a loss of 5 per cent. And over a five-year period, its loss has been nearly 4 per cent.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters states the problem in a sentence when it said, "In the past 12 months fires that were largely preventable destroyed $703,262,000 worth of irreplaceable property in the United States." This does not include the tremendous damage done in the Texas City disaster, which was caused principally by concussion.

During the first 121 days of this year, fire loss held to a rate of more than $2,250,000 a day. And the death rate is around 11,000 lives a year. Fire is thus directly comparable to war as a destroyer and a killer.

There is one encouraging sign—and it lies in the fact that fire prevention activity is being stepped up throughout the country. More and more serious effort is being given to showing the people the causes of fire—and the steps that will prevent fire. If the people listen and act, a heavy cut in the fire bill can be achieved.

Garden Hints

from the Orange County Ass'n of Nursery men.

BEGONIAS

Few people in the Southland have not seen and enjoyed the spectacular beauty of tuberous begonias as viewed in a florist's window or in commercial displays, but equally few of us have actually known and grown them in our gardens. This, indeed, seems a pity for with only the barest knowledge as to their culture they can be grown as easily and as thrifily as daffodils or narcissi and bloom constantly from late spring well into the fall.

Tuberous begonias bloom and thrive where few other plants will grow, that is, in dense shade, and those unsightly barren spaces which so often are evident in our heavily shaded gardens can be transformed into vividly colored spots of beauty.

The cultural requirements of this lovely flower are few but nonetheless essential. They demand shade, a rich soil and ample moisture. Being shallow rooted, the soil need be prepared to a depth of no more than eight inches, but whether your soil is adobe, hardpan or just plain, ordinary garden variety it should be prepared. An ideal soil is a mixture of well-decomposed leaf mold and steer manure in equal proportions. Small portions of peat moss and coarse building sand mixed into the soil thoroughly will have the soil well prepared for the plants.

Shaded rock gardens make splendid settings for tuberous begonias. The coolness of the rocks and the rustic setting create a practical and yet beautiful situation. If you are in a location where ferns thrive in your garden, intersperse a few begonia tubers. All summer long the startlingly beautiful flowers will make a magnificent picture against a background of fern.

Tuberous begonias make handsome pot subjects as well as hanging-basket specimens. When planted in pots or baskets tuberous begonias should be given feedings of liquid fertilizer, about once a week after the plant is established. Those in the ground should be mulched with peat moss, bone meal and steer manure about midsummer, while mild applications of liquid fertilizer about every two weeks will prove beneficial.

In Southern California tuberous begonias are most easily grown from tubers or plants obtained from your closet reliable nursery. They can be planted in April 1, May and June.

Your Home
By Frances

Did you know that approximately ONE MILLION SEVEN HUNDRED THOUSAND couples will be married this year? Well, I was just amazed when I heard that figure—and I began thinking that a lot of us will have friends among this year's brides-to-be and will be planning showers. So I thought you might like to have a few ideas for different kinds of showers.

Just for fun, how about a "pair shower?" Have every guest bring gifts in pairs—anything from a pair of stockings to a pair of matching guest towels. The bride will receive some unusual gifts, and, of course, your prizes will be in pairs, too. So everyone will have a great time!

Another type of shower that will bring many welcome gifts to the bride is a paper shower. Especially if many of the guests have been to several showers, they'll appreciate the inexpensiveness of paper gifts, and the bride will be glad to get some of the actual necessities she'll need in her new home.

Here are some paper gift ideas, great for that "paper anniversary", too—playing cards, bridge sets with invitations, tally cards, place mats and paper napkins, the latter, welcome laundry-savers. Maybe you'll select a big picnic basket as your own gift, and then it can be filled with the gaily wrapped packages from everyone else.

To make your paper shower complete and, incidentally, to save yourself a lot of work—you'll want to serve luncheon on a paper cloth with paper napkins, paper cups and spoons, etc. Your guests will enjoy the informality of your table, and you'll have more fun at your own party because paper accessories make entertaining doubly easy!

Banana Cup Cakes

Sliced bananas show off their good looks in these tempting banana cup cakes made with enriched flour for better food value.

Fruit variety is limited at this season so let's find different ways for using the "dependables" on the market. There are more ways than one to eat bananas. For proof, we offer these cup cakes with a real banana flavor, their fluffy frosting decked with two slices of the fruit. The cup cakes are made by the usual cake method, with the flour mixture added to the creamed mixture alternately with mashed bananas and milk. Measure ingredients carefully, sifting flour once before measuring. Preserve the golden yellow of the cut bananas in the topping by dipping them in lemon or other citrus juices.

Besides good eating, the cup cakes boast of good food value supplied by the enriched flour with its protein, iron, and B-vitamins. The recipe makes a sufficient quantity to serve at a casual afternoon tea, or for after-school snack and dinner dessert.

BANANA CUP CAKES

2 cups sifted enriched flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, beaten

1 teaspoon grated orange rind
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 cup mashed bananas
2 tablespoons milk
1/2 cup chopped nuts

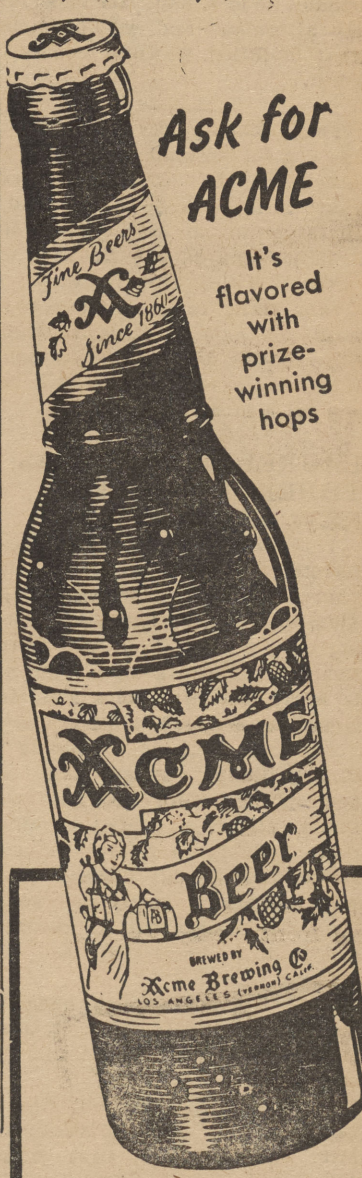

Sift together flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Cream together shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Add eggs, mixing well. Add orange rind, lemon rind and vanilla extract. Add flour mixture to creamed mixture alternately with bananas and milk. Fold in nuts. Fill greased three-inch muffin pans two-thirds full. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 25 minutes. Yield: About 14 three-inch cup cakes.

THIS AND THAT

The California Division of Fish and Game has issued its annual warning to California vacationists to refrain from picking up fawns that appear to be lost or abandoned. Four good reasons why the young deer should be left alone have been provided.

1. The lone fawn is invariably not lost or abandoned, but has merely wandered away from its mother temporarily; 2. Although the little Bambis are cute at this time of the year, they grow up to be dangerous in spite of captivity and loving care; 3. The doe deer, which has probably watched the kidnapping from a distance, is better equipped than humans to take care of her offspring; 4. Possession of a spotted fawn is against the law.

The newest and biggest water show, the Aqua Parade of 1948, coming to the Pan Pacific on July 22 for a 11-day run is indirectly an idea of little Billy Rose of B'way fame.

Back in 1940 Rose was staging the water shows at the world's fair in New York. Clarence Lawrence "Buster" Crabbe, Olympic games champion, was one of the stars of the aquacade presented at the fair.

It was during this time that Crabbe got the idea of a traveling water show to be done on a gigantic scale such as was being staged at the world's fair. In other words put the Rose idea on wheels or in sections so that it could be moved around the nation. While in the army during the war Crabbe nursed his plan along by taking small units on the road for camp entertainment.

But it was not until last season that Crabbe finally came up with the world's largest portable pool and diving tank and the Aqua Parade.

Choicest summertime fruits and vegetables are late in reaching housewives' market baskets this season because June's cool weather retarded maturity of most crops. Sweet corn and cantaloupe moved in abundance from southern farms last month, but grapes, avocados and tomatoes were relatively slow. Farm labor was reported adequate, although growers noted a lack of experience among pickers and consequent rise in costs.

The livestock picture is described as one of continuing price advances, with additional increases looming because of light marketing of cattle, a probable cut in hog supplies and lighter lamb and mutton offerings. Dry-fed cattle number only half of the quantity available a year ago, and grass feeders were found insufficient to offset the grain-fed beef shortage.

During the three-day showing of the 1949 Ford car, Ford dealers in the U. S. took 465,000 new orders, according to figures released. These orders, added to the 972,266 already on the dealers' books, brings the total of orders on hand to 1,437,092, exclusive of trucks. Truck orders on hand total 397,726.

It is estimated that more than 28,000,000 persons inspected the new Ford car during the three-day showing.

Despite this large number of backorders, production is still far from capacity. The two Ford assembly plants on the west coast, at Long Beach and Richmond, are running at less than half of capacity at the present time, and officials predict it will be two years or more before production catches up with demand.

Among the numerous bills passed by the last congress and enacted into law was one which increases the compensation payments to widows, children and dependent parents of deceased veterans who died as the result of injury or disease incurred in or aggravated by active service.

The increased rates become effective with the month of September 1948, and apply to service-connected death compensation payable to dependents of veterans who served in the armed forces in either war or peacetime.

Dependents entitled to increased amounts under the new law will receive them automatically, and the Veterans' Administration requests that beneficiaries not write to VA offices regarding the matter.

QUESTION: I was honorably discharged back in 1945. How long can I wait before making use of my G. I. loan benefit?

ANSWER: Veterans do not have to be in a hurry to take advantage of the G. I. loan benefits as they have until July 25, 1957 to apply for loan guarantees. That's nine years from now.

QUESTION: Do I have to have a ten percent or more service-connected disability in order to be eligible for outpatient treatment at the VA?

ANSWER: No, the degree of disability does not matter. Any veteran who has an established service-connected disability is entitled to outpatient treatment for his service-connected condition, regardless of the degree of disability.

Veterans of World War II, are warned that writing to the Veterans' Administration will only delay payment of dividends on National Service Life Insurance scheduled to be paid almost all former and current policy holders, according to Ben Lieberman, Orange county director of veterans' affairs.

Eventual payment of dividends, possibly within a year, is the result of a recent supreme court decision which made possible the release of peraps as much as $2 billion in surplus.

The Veterans' Administration advised payments will be made automatically once the tremendous amount of book is completed on the records of the 19,000,000 insurance holders eligible for dividends. There has been no estimate on how much each policy holder will receive. The dividends will depend upon the amount of insurance carried, the period it was in force and the age of the insured. Beneficiaries or deceased policy holders also will receive dividends. Actual policies also will be issued after several months to those who have converted their insurance from the term plan.

The Orange County Veterans Service Center is prepared to assist former servicemen on insurance matters or any other veteran benefits in their office at 225 North Broadway, Santa Ana.

Mrs. Bill Robins Fetes Mrs. Almand At Shower

When Mrs. Bill Almand called at the Elmer McWilliams home on Bishop street one evening this past week, she was a very surprised young matron to discover a group of friends gathered in her honor to shower her with layette gifts. Hostess for the affair was Mrs. Bill Robins, daughter of the McWilliams.

Arrangements of large shaggy double Shasta daisies gave the room a decorative note and theme of the party was accented by the clever rattle nut cups tied with blue ribbon.

The hostess had arranged several games for the entertainment of her guests and presented high score prizes to Mrs. Emmerson Douglas, Mrs. Robert Hoyt and Mrs. Wilton Ablanap.

A lovely aluminum bathinette, the gift of her mother, Mrs. Wilton Ablanap, and filled to overflowing with prettily wrapped packages, was placed before Mrs. Almand for opening.

Sandwiches, relishes and punch were served at the conclusion of the evening. Guests from Buena Park included, Mrs. Lucy Vanofelin, Mrs. Fred Winters and Mrs. Emmerson Douglas; Mrs. Herbert Hunt, Mrs. Wilton Ablanap, Miss Willa Ablanap and Miss Barbara Meyer, all of Harding; Mrs. Andy Kolosky, Mrs. Robert Fogg, Mrs. Pat Arnold, Mrs. Robert Hoyt, Mrs. Ted Siems, Mrs. Elmer McWilliams and the Misses Lillian Shear, Betty Siems, and Gloria Temple.

SHOWER IN STANTON FOR MRS. W. PONSAR

Mrs. Robert Ponsar, Jr., of 8131 Starr street, in Stanton, entertained at luncheon and a shower last Saturday afternoon honoring Mrs. Warren Ponsar. The colors pink and blue predominated throughout the decorations of the home and on the beautifully appointed table. The honoree was the recipient of many lovely gifts.

Sharing the hospitality of the hostess were Mrs. Vern Wing and daughter, Virginia, Mrs. Dale Wing, Mrs. Clayton Morse, Mrs. Miles Kolb, Mrs. Robert Henderson, Mrs. Lloyd Morse, and Mrs. Virgil Isbell and Janet, besides the honored guest.

DARK DAYS

Did you ever have that certain day, when everything goes wrong.
When every cloud in the sky is grey,
and the day seems years long.

I had a day like that today,
when everything went bad.
And things that I would do or say would make some person sad.
If only I knew when the day began,
that it would be this way,
I would spend my time the best I can,
and stay in bed all day.

But I guess that life is all that way,
with its good days and its bad.
So each evening now I kneel and pray, and my days aren't near so sad.

—Lawrence Markel,
5551 Vonnie Lane, Cypress.

A LITTLE HOUSE

I do not ask for riches, or a mansion that is fine, or jewels to wear, or yachts to sail,
no! none of that for mine.
My wants are very simple, but, for me they can't be best.

I only ask for a little house, that stands on a quiet street,
A little lamp in the window, to shed its cheerful light, a little yard where children play from morning until night.

a small flower garden I can tend and smell their perfume sweet,
Oh, give me just a little house that stands on a quiet street.

Give me a house that's filled with love, tenderness and care, where laughter rings and happiness reigns supremely there.

Give me neighbors who stop to speak when e'er we chance to meet,
Give me just a little house that stands on a quiet street.

You can have the noise and hustle of a busy thoroughfare,
But none of that for me, for I'd not be happy there.
I like the simple things in life and the peacefulness so deep, that comes from within a little house that stands on a quiet street.

Lucille Quetschke.

Motorists Warned To Slow Down

"Speed is a killer, slow down and live longer," was the advice today from the Highway Patrol to every motorist in California. "Drivers should realize that speed is a contributing factor in two out of every five fatal traffic accidents and that 1,400 persons were victims of accidents involving excessive speed in 1947 alone."

"If each driver would take it a little easier, and not only obey the stated speed limits but stay within the safe speed set by common sense, we would have fewer deaths and injuries from traffic accidents," Commissioner Clifford E. Peterson declared. "The legal speed limits posted along our streets and highways are for average driving conditions, dry pavement, good visibility and no unusual traffic adjusted accordingly. Speed kills, take it easy and enjoy driving."

MRS. ROBERT HOYT HAS SURPRISE SHOWER FOR SCHOOL CHUM

Mrs. Glenn Bloom of Anaheim was the surprised honor guest at an anticipation shower on a recent evening when a group of former Fullerton Junior college friends met together at the home of Mrs. Robert Hoyt and presented her with a chenille crib spread and pillow.

No entertainment was planned for the evening as the hostess knew the girls would rather visit since they do not get together very often. A frozen dessert and coffee were served at the close of a pleasant evening.

In the group, in addition to the honor guest were Miss Gloria Bradford and Mrs. Leon Knoeller of Garden Grove; Mrs. Wesley Woodruff of Huntington Beach; Mrs. Charles Hargrove of Placentia; Mrs. Richard Morris of Anaheim and the hostess.

GROUP CELEBRATION HONORS BIRTHDAYS

The birthday anniversaries of four persons were given special recognition last night when a group of relatives gathered for dinner at the Chungking cafe in Anaheim. Arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Bonnie Hall.

The celebrants, who were remembered with cards and gifts, were Mrs. Ike Stearns, Mrs. Kelsey Williams, Mrs. Robert Boon and Stan Baleski. Following dinner, the group assembled at the Bob Stearns home on Western avenue for a social evening.

In the party were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boon, Mr. and Mrs. Kelsey Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Ike Stearns and Donnie, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Stearns and children, Bob, Juliet and Fredrick, Stan Baleski, Mary Gray and Haskell Nivens.
